What an exciting week of topic studies we've had. The changing Autumn weather has helped our studies and observations during Maths, and everyone was very excited to start building their tornado proof model houses for our STEM studies.

Glen Alice students are also studying the weather this term and our students have enjoyed sharing their work, and learning alongside Glen Alice kids through Zoom and Google Classrooms.

Homework Reading

Please make sure all children with homework are completing their home reading through the week and are ready to hand their homework in on Fridays.

Open for Enrolments

Our school is of course open to student enrolments from Kindergarten through to Year 6. We offer a personal learning pathway for every child focusing on academic success in a caring and supportive environment. Our school has been recognised by the Secretary of Education as an innovative learning environment, there is a bus travelling to our school every day for parents considering enrolment options, and I am proud to say our school has an incredible team of experienced staff committed to both our students, and our community. I'm happy to talk with any parents wishing to visit our school or gather more information on student enrolments.

FEDERAL ELECTION 2022 NO POLLING BOOTH IN HILL END

You are eligible to apply for a postal vote if you can't get to a polling place on election day. <https://www.aec.gov.au/pva>
There is no iVote available for the federal election.

READY, SET, WRITE MOTHERS' DAY

My Mum is the best Mum in the world. She is kind and caring.

She cares for me, like when I am sad or sick, she cares for me by cuddling up to me or giving me medicine. My Mum cooks yummy food for the whole family. The food always tastes good.

REMINDER

Hats must be worn at school every day outdoors.

Students are welcome to leave their hats at school so they are not forgotten.

TORNADO PROOF MODEL HOUSES

First comes the research. Last week students started researching how to build a tornado proof model house within a budget.

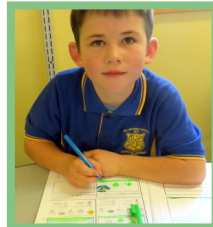

This week the building has begun. We look forward to seeing what students can create during the coming weeks.

THE SEASONS

In class with Mrs Rayner students have been learning all about the seasons. Students learnt that the northern and southern hemisphere seasons are opposite and why that is.

UKULELES

Students are learning some new songs accompanied by Beth and Mr G on ukulele.
