HILL END PUBLIC SCHOOL - 154 YEARS OF EDUCATION

GOALS!

Congratulations this week, firstly to all the students who have moved closer to, or achieved a personal learning goal. Our school prides itself on academic achievement and our goal getter' students certainly are stars!

Goal Getters

Alex, Chelsea, Adalyn, Imogen, Hudson, Sage, Ethan, Odin and Archer.
Well done also to our newest student Indiana for setting her first goals - studying well and enjoying school.

Bumps, burns, bites and stings!

Our study of the human body has been quite an adventure. This week the students learnt how to treat burns and fractures! We might have some future SES, ambo's or doctors in the classroom.

Public Speaking

Today our students are away in Mudgee competing in the annual MSSN Public Speaking competition. Public speaking can be such a scary thing to do and I am so very proud of all the students in preparing, practicing and trying their very best. Good luck to them all!

School grounds

I'd like to conclude this week by thanking both Sarah and Mathew for their work on the school grounds. They are a picture, and I know the children enjoy playing in a school that is well cared for. Thank you both.

Book Title

The Land of Lost Things

Author: Andy Griffiths

Do you like to go on adventures?

Well this book is about a land of lost things.

A boy named David loses his rabbit foot. He goes with his friend, away from his home, far away, into the enormous forest. Will he find the rabbit foot?

Setting

In my story called "Land of lost things" they go into a forest, deep, deep into the west.

On the way trees were on the forest floor. Trees were rolling off the cliffs, so many dead trees down there.

The forest is dark with lots of bark on the floor and leaves on the ground. The forest is like a maze! It has so many trees, the trees are whistling, with leaves falling down. There are lots of branches on the forest floor.

On Wednesday the students and teachers all wore their brightest clothing in memory of Melissa George and to raise funds for the Leukaemia Foundation. Everyone made a donation and $500 was raised which will be given to the Foundation. Thankyou to the Parents/Carers for supporting this event and donating. Your donation will help towards research and supporting patients and their families while they are dealing with leukaemia and other blood disorders.

Topic Studies

The students have finished their topic studies dive into the skeletal system and the muscular system. They are now looking at the cardiovascular system. The students have been learning about the way the heart pumps blood around their bodies. They have learnt about how valves help the blood to return to the heart. The models purchased for the school from the Variety Club donation have been a great help to the students learning about the human body this term.
